On arrival in Thailand you will need to visit a Thai Immigration Office near to where you are staying and check the procedure for changing your status in Thailand so that you can report every 90 days.

As a guideline we believe you will need to:-

- a) Open a Thailand bank account and deposit the required amount of money into it which will be circa THB800,000 (approx. £20k) which, when you are in Thailand, you can transfer from your UK bank account. If you are able to show the Thai Immigration Office that you receive a regular income into your UK bank account they may agree to you depositing a lesser amount.
- b) Provide a Medical Certificate (available from your GP in the UK) stating that you are free from all the following diseases: Leprosy, Tuberculosis, Elephantiasis, Drug Addiction and Third Stage Syphilis.
- c) Provide a UKM Police Check (CRB or DBS or ACRO) which you can apply for on-line in the UK.

If, for any reason, you need to exit Thailand you will need to obtain a Re-Entry Permit before exiting. If exiting overland Re-Entry Permits are usually available at border exit points. If exiting through an international airport it will be necessary to visit the Re-Entry Permit Office within the airport building. The Re-Entry Permit usually allows up to 90 days to re-enter Thailand. If you fail to obtain a Re-Entry Permit you may need to obtain a new visa before attempting to return to Thailand.
